India aims to scale up solar PV cell manufacturing to match module capacity

Rishi Ranjan Kala
New Delhi

The government is targeting to expand the domestic solar PV cell manufacturing capacity from around 27 gigawatts (GW) currently to 42 GW by Q1 FY27 and further to over 90 GW, following the trajectory taken by modules.

Currently, India's solar photovoltaic (PV) module manufacturing capacity stands at around 92 GW, which the Ministry of New & Renewable Energy (MNRE) plans to scale up to 125 GW by the end of this decade.

Sources in the government explained that India's

Unilever to invest 'disproportionately' in India, says momentum is building

GROWTH SIGNALS. The past 12 weeks have seen improved volume stability, says FMCG major

Aroosa Ahmed
Mumbai

FMCG giant Unilever said it is seeing improvement in the Indian market, with market share gains. Looking ahead, Chief Executive Officer Fernando Fernandez spoke of "disproportionate investment" in its two largest markets — the US and India — as one of its priorities.

While announcing its June quarter results, the company stated that the market conditions in India had improved, and growth of its Indian subsidiary Hindustan Unilever was led by the premium portfolio.

GROWTH MOMENTUM
"We are building momentum in India, where we recently have a new head of business, Priya Nair," said Fernandez.

"After having successfully

led our beauty business, Priya has a deep understanding of our HPC business in India that she successfully ran for years. With a knowledge of the international market that is necessary to keep our portfolio in tune with consumer needs and channel shift already visible in the market," Fernandez added.

HUL's consolidated net profit rose to ₹2,768 crore, up from ₹2,612 crore a year earlier, while revenue grew to ₹16,323 crore from ₹15,532 crore, driven by underlying 4 per cent volume growth.

VOLUME STABILITY
Its shares hit a 9-month high in intra-day trade, surging over 8 per cent to ₹2,727.5, before paring gains to close

1.3 per cent higher at ₹2,554.

Over the past 12 weeks, operations in India have seen improved volume stability, Unilever said.

"We see a clear sign of pickup in the emerging markets. In our last call, we mentioned no additional headwinds in India; tailwinds are coming through, given the macros, disposable income, and various measures taken by the government. That is where it started to play. On a macro basis, we see volume stability, and if you see the market in the last 12 weeks, we see an improvement," said Srinivas Phatak, Acting Chief Financial Officer of Unilever.

Further, there has been significant work in terms of portfolio transformation, where we are investing behind the market makers beyond the core portfolio. When we begin to see a step-up in volume, we also invest in both core and in the future format," Phatak added.

Unilever stated that it is confident of gaining market share in the country.

"The important element is that we had good performance in home care, and there is a high single-digit volume. We have seen the headline growth in beauty and personal care, and some of the foods are sequentially getting better. From a channel perspective, we see plans, not just in the general trade, but in quick commerce and e-commerce. In e-commerce, our sales have doubled and are a larger contributor. It starts to become a tailwind for us when we look at this growth opportunity. We are confident and comfortable with India's growth trajectory and expect it to do well. We will gain shares, and we are confident about India," added Phatak.

Capital expenditure (capex) will be funded primarily from internal accruals, and through a mix of debt, mostly term loans.

However, the debt-to-equity ratio will not exceed the 0.5 per cent upper cap, Subhrakant Panda, Managing Director, IMFA, told businessline.

IMFA continues to be a long term net debt free company. The cornerstone of IMFA's capex is a ₹900-crore greenfield expansion at its Kalinganagar facility in Odisha, which includes the commissioning of two new furnaces with a combined capacity of 1,00,000 tonnes. These projects are expected to be completed by 2026.

Panda said that around ₹150–200 crore of this capex has already been deployed, with the rest to be rolled out in the coming months. The Kalinganagar capex, part of this broader initiative, is expected to conclude by June 2026.

IMFA is also exploring international opportunities for chromite ore, while eyeing India's critical mineral blocks leveraging its mining and processing expertise. The company will, however, prefer to avoid high-cost regions due to logistical and electricity cost concerns.

MINING EXPANSION
Simultaneously, IMFA is also investing over ₹1,000 crore to bolster mining operations, aiming to scale its capacity to 9 lakh tonnes by the end of 2026, with a further increase to 12 lakh tonnes in Phase-II of the project.

This investment, spread over four to five years, underscores "IMFA's commitment to securing raw material supply chains to support its core ferro-alloys business."

The current production target (for FY26) from its Sukinda and Mahagiri mines is 8 lakh tonnes and the FY25 production was around 7 lakh tonnes.

"We remain confident of improving demand for stainless steel in India and in line with demand projections, we are looking at a capacity ramp up of our mines," Panda said.

ETHANOL PRODUCTION

Adding a new dimension to its portfolio, IMFA is venturing into ethanol production with a ₹160-crore investment in a 120 KLD (kilo litres per day) plant at its older unit in Therubali, Odisha. The plant is set to be operational by Q1 2026 (Jan-Mar).

Panda said, this is as a value-accretive B2B business and leverages existing infrastructure and complements the company's core strengths without diverting focus from ferroalloys. This aligns with the company's expertise in processing and resource utilisation.

Arvind sees garment exports UK doubling by ₹400 cr post signing of free trade deal with UK

Avinash Nair
Ahmedabad

Textile major Arvind Ltd anticipates that the signing of the India-UK trade deal will work to its advantage and help increase its exports to the UK by ₹400 crore in the coming years, effectively doubling its current export volumes to the country in Europe.

"Currently, India does about $1 billion exports of garments to the UK. With this, the business should at a minimum double as we are at a relative advantage to our nearest competitor. So, all efforts to re-prioritise effort towards winning in the UK market will now commence. Both India and Arvind stand to gain from this," said Punit Lalbhai, Vice-Chairman of Gujarat-based Arvind Ltd during an investors' call held earlier this week.

Arvind exports ₹200 crore

CAPACITY BOOST. The textile manufacturer also proposes to increase its advanced materials division capacity by another 40% to meet the demands from the US, West Asia and the UK markets worth of goods to the UK, and the trade deal with India is expected to unlock more opportunities for textile exporters in India.

"UK business has always been a garmenting business. Because of historical reasons, the UK was never a big opportunity. Now that we are increasing our garmenting capacity and with the India-UK alignment, the scenario has changed. We are putting the right teams in place [for the UK business], and it will benefit the garment business as well as the Advanced Materials Division (AMD) business," he said, adding that the company already has customers for its human-protection products in the UK.

AMD CAPACITY
The textile manufacturer also proposes to increase its AMD capacity by an additional 40 per cent to meet the demands from the US, West Asia and the UK markets.

"We are expanding both our industrial and our human protection [product] capacity. We are also increasing the shifts in which our factories will be working. By next quarter, a couple of factories will be running a second shift, and we are putting up one more greenfield factory for human protection [products]. So, there is a lot of capacity ramp up," said Lalbhai, adding that the present capacity utilisation has gone beyond 100 per cent.

"We are on track to increase [AMD] capacity by 20 per cent by the end of this year, and another 20 per cent in the next financial year. Demand from the US is the largest, and there is an increase in demand from the middle east and from the UK," he added.

The human protection division of the company manufacturers a range of specialised clothing and accessories such as flame retardant wear, high-visibility industrial work-wear and masks to protect personnel engaged in sectors having harsh working environments.

TRAIN PROJECT

The company, which received a ₹200 crore order from the Vande Bharat train programme, said the AMD division will service the order, which will be executed over four years.

Lalbhai said Arvind will provide interior fittings for the coaches of Vande Bharat trains, which include ceiling and side-panels, partitions, doors, flooring panels and toilets made of composites that are strong, yet light in weight. "About 5-7 per cent of the material requirement for every coach [for the trains] will be serviced by us. This could be from the AMD division," he added.
